

ABVE 2027 Annual Conference March 18-21, 2027

Exhibitor & Sponsorship Prospectus

CHARLESTON

Navigating from Theory to Practice

Greetings!

The American Board of Vocational Experts (ABVE) is thrilled to announce its 2027 Annual Conference at the Hyatt Place Hotel in the Historic District of Downtown Charleston, South Carolina on Thursday, March 18 through Sunday, March 21, 2027. This is your opportunity to showcase your organization's products and services to both current and prospective clients.

Our members regularly testify in federal, state and circuit courts on issues involving social security, personal injury, medical malpractice, family law, employment law, and workers' compensation. We have experts in psychometric testing, earning capacity evaluations, employability, transferable skills analysis and evaluating an individual's job search efforts.

Why Sponsor

Sponsoring our conference is an opportunity to connect directly with a highly engaged community of professionals, decision-makers, and industry peers in an intimate, relationship-focused environment.

Unlike large trade shows where conversations can get lost in the crowd, our event is intentionally designed for meaningful interaction, quality networking, and authentic engagement.

With approximately 125 attendees and a limited number of exhibitor tables, sponsors receive focused visibility and valuable face-to-face access throughout the event.

Why Companies Sponsor Our Event

- Build brand awareness within a targeted professional audience
- Connect directly with attendees in a more personal setting
- Showcase products, services, and expertise
- Generate qualified leads and business relationships
- Demonstrate support for the industry and community

Limited Opportunities Available

To ensure strong value and visibility for every sponsor and exhibitor, opportunities are intentionally limited.

We welcome partnerships with organizations that want to engage with attendees in a collaborative, professional, and community-centered environment.
